

DISTRICT NODAL SCIENTISTS OF CGWB & DISTRICT MAGISTRATE /DISTRICT COLLECTORS OF STATES

Central Ground Water Board has 18 Regional offices headed by Regional Directors and 11 state unit offices located in various states. Regional Directors are supported by scientists of various scientific disciplines and engineers. The details of the Regional offices and state unit offices are given in Table 1 & 2. The location of offices is shown in map.

Central Ground Water Board has nominated Nodal Officers/Scientists for each district of the states in order to have close co-ordination with all the state Government and other agencies engaged in the field of water mainly ground water being developed for water supply for drinking, domestic, irrigation, industrial purposes, etc. and also conservation of water resources for sustainability of the resources, recharge to ground water, rainwater harvesting, etc.

The concerned nodal scientists will act as a facilitator between District Magistrate/District Commissioner and state authorities of the district and Panchayat Raj institutions for planning, developments and conservation of water resources at the district level. The nodal scientists will provide all necessary guidance/inputs required which include technical data, methodologies, technologies and sharing of information etc on ground water, rainwater harvesting, water conservation, quality etc.

State-wise/Regional Directorate-wise details of nodal scientists of CGWB and district Collectors/District Magistrate of the respective states all the districts state-wise along with their telephones and e-mail addresses are given in Table 3.

The names of nodal officers of CGWB and DC/DM of States government are subject to change from time to time.
